

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New theatre company announces inaugural season Boiling Point Players: Theatre that Bubbles

February 17, 2014

Houston, TX – Boiling Point Players, an exciting new theatre company founded by Autumn Clack, Melanie Martin, and Ruth S. McCleskey, has announced its inaugural season opening May 22, 2014. In Juliet's Garden imaginatively presents William Shakespeare's best-known heroines discussing their critical – and often hilarious – opinions of their respective storylines. Secrets of a Soccer Mom, directed by Christine Weems, reveals what happens when three soccer moms discover surprising insights as they play a parent-child game against their sons. The two shows run concurrently on alternating nights, May 22 through May 31, 2014.

After each performance, additional entertainment will be provided by local improv troupe Ophelia's Rope and guest performers.

When: May 22, 2014 through May 31, 2014 at 8:00 pm

Where: Studio 101, 1824 Spring Street, Houston, TX (Sawyer Heights)

Website: www.boilingpointplayers.com

Tickets: Tickets will be available for purchase on April 28th, 2014 at www.boilingpointplayers.com

Media Contact: Michelle Odgers, Communications Manager, (832) 303-1578, boilingpointplayers@gmail.com

About the Founders

Autumn Clack is a graduate of Adelphi University with a major in Acting and a minor in Dance. She also attended London Dramatic Academy where she studied in depth the works of Shakespeare along with stage combat. Clack steadily involves herself in the theatre community and has previously served as House Manager and board member for Phoenix Theatre Company. She is also one-half of two-woman improv group Ophelia's Rope.

Melanie Martin recently served as treasurer and board member of WordSmyth Theater Company. Her most recent theatre credits include Your Family Sucks, The Laramie Project, Extremities, Cactus Flower, and The Miss Firecracker Contest. Martin has also performed in Atlanta, taking on roles in Dracula, The Tibetan Book of the Dead or How Not to Do It Again, and Fefu and Her Friends. Martin also served as Vice President of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Ruth S. McCleskey graduated from University of Houston with a major in Theatre, as magna cum laude. She served as board member for Unhinged Production. Her immersion in the arts also includes experience in dance as she is proficient in styles such as west coast swing and country western dancing. Aside from performance, McCleskey possesses web development skills. Her recent performance activity consists of joining up with Boiling Point Player Autumn Clack in their two-woman improv group, Ophelia's Rope.

Boiling Point Players is committed to bringing authenticity, fun and females to the stage.

###